The Science of Language Learning and an Introduction to Karadi Path

How do we learn languages naturally?

How do we learn a language in the classroom?

What types of intelligence come into the picture while learning a language?

How does language proficiency impact all learning?

Through a series of interactive exercises and discussions, the workshop will present some new insights into linguistic intelligence, the process of learning, and language acquisition.

Find out how the widely acclaimed Karadi Path methodology used in the Power English and Magic English programmes will change not only how your students learn English, but improve their overall academic experience.

This workshop will be especially useful for school management, senior educators and language teachers.
